Big 3 Makes Final Try For Unity On Suez

Differences Reported Growing Among U. S., Britain, France

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The foreign ministers of the Big Three Western powers made a last-minute effort today to agree on a common front in the U.N. Suez debate.

Amid growing reports of Western differences, Secretary of State Dulles flew to New York for a conference with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau before the Security Council meeting at 1 p.m. (CST).

"Momentous" Session
Dulles declared in a speech Thursday night that the Suez session "in many respects will be the most momentous" the Security Council has ever held.

Today's session was the first meeting of the three Western foreign ministers since the second London conference on the Suez problem ended Sept. 21.

U. S. spokesmen have carefully avoided any definite statement as to whether or not the United States would support a British-French resolution calling for U.N. endorsement of the position taken in the first London conference in August. This provided for international control of the 103-mile waterway, a demand Egypt already has rejected.

While U.N. representatives of the three western powers have sought to minimize the differences between the United States and her main Western allies, criticism of Dulles' position has been growing in France and Britain.

Denounces U. S. Stand
In Paris the newly elected speaker of the French National Assembly, Andre Le Troquer, denounced what he called the "near impotence" of the U.S. Suez policy. He blamed it on the election campaign.

French and British newspapers also have been critical of Dulles' news conference statement earlier this week about differences between the United States and the British and French.

A U.S. spokesman here said the United States agreed in principle with the British-French demands for international control of the waterway.

Kiwanis Club Picks Keller President For Next Year

David Keller, manager of the Strauss store, was elected president of the Kiwanis Club at the annual election of officers held Thursday.

Other officers, who will take over their duties Jan. 1, are: Vice presidents, Donald Vincent and Orin Naragon; treasurer, Charles Merrill; secretary, Richard Strain; directors, John Hochadel, Gail Herron, James M. Giffin and Donald Hammell.

Chester Roof is now president of the club.

Arthur J. Keeney of Canton, promotion manager of Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc., addressed the Kiwanis at their luncheon meeting yesterday at the Memorial Building on the subject, "The Newspaper in the Community."

Stressing the importance of freedom of the press in the nation, he traced the newspaper's role as custodian of that right which, he pointed out, belongs to the people.

He recounted the newspaper's role as a champion of free enterprise and a supporter of worthy community projects. His editorial pages are always open for opinions by the readers, he pointed out.

The speaker was introduced by Atty. Walter J. Hunston, chairman of the Kiwanis club's annual observance of National Newspaper Week.

Dr. George F. Jones announced preliminary plans for the annual Kiwanis Kapers, to be held Nov. 12 and 13 at Salem High School. It will be in the form of a minstrel this year. A first meeting of the cast will be held Tuesday evening at the Memorial Building.

Believes People Should Be Able To Pick Anyone

President Declares He Enjoys Campaign, Getting To See Public

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today he does not regard as entirely wise the constitutional amendment that bars a third presidential term.

Eisenhower, making no attempt to apply his remarks to his own case, said he believes that by and large the people should be able to choose as president anybody they want, regardless of the number of terms.

He told a news conference that there have been objections that this might concentrate power in one individual. But he said he has the utmost confidence in the long-range judgment of the American people.

Eisenhower, under questioning, said he likes campaigning—that he likes to get out and see the people instead of just getting reports.

And, he said, he is on the road of truth and facts—not on the high road or low road.

Jab At Democrats
This was an obvious jab at Democratic opponents who have been accusing the GOP of taking the low road at times during the 1956 political war.

Eisenhower also batted back at the Democratic presidential nominee, Adlai E. Stevenson, on the civil rights issue.

He said that in the armed forces, his administration ended segregation by taking the bull by the horns. He did concede that the Democrats had done something in that direction. But also said that there had been talk about the problem for all the 45 years he was in service.

The President said that Vice President Nixon, when discussing the campaign with him Thursday, didn't specify the Republican strong and weak points. He said Nixon told him the whole picture was most encouraging.

Eisenhower added that the vice president, who has just returned from a 32-state tour, reported the most enthusiastic and largest crowds of his career.

As for his own campaigning, Eisenhower said it hadn't gone along at the level he had hoped—that he had hoped he could use a completely expository approach rather than engage in debate.

On the third question, Eisenhower was asked whether he would consider dropping the constitutional provision that limits a president to two terms, after he has served out his own second term.

It was then that Eisenhower said he believed by and large that the country should be able to choose anybody it wants for president, although he indicated he was willing to stick by the requirements of a 35-year age limit.

Among the items that came up during the question and answer session:

Taxes—Told that he had indicated in a speech in Lexington, Ky., this week that he had suggested the possibility of a tax cut in the next year or so, Eisenhower

Phone Exchange Closed Again

Violence Breaks Out Again In New Boston

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—New violence broke out in the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. strike Thursday night and resulted in the closing down of the New Boston exchange for the second time in recent weeks.

A group of about 35 men forced its way through a door of the exchange only to retire when two supervisory employees sprayed the men with the contents of a fire extinguisher, authorities reported.

Similar groups gathered in front of the Portsmouth and Sciotoville exchanges and threw stones at the buildings, police said. Both New Boston and Sciotoville are Portsmouth suburbs.

The Communication Workers of America—have been on strike against Consolidated since July 14, and negotiations for settlement have been under way here for weeks with negligible results. The strike began when the contract between the union and the company expired. The union maintains it is striking to defend gains of former years, and says it is up to management "to start dropping its retrogressive demands so we may bargain out a satisfactory and honorable agreement."

Settlement of two of nearly a score of issues blocking agreement on a new contract was announced Thursday. These were service charges for telephones installed in employees' homes, and the scope of certain jobs. Details were not disclosed.

Three women operators at the New Boston exchange reported they saw the crowd gathering in front of the small building about 9 p.m. and notified the Portsmouth exchange. The company sent a taxi to New Boston and the three workers left the exchange in the hands of Fred Doll and Neal Cook, supervisory employees.

Doll said the crowd then forced open the door "and tried to storm the stairs."

"I grabbed a 15-pound fire extinguisher and sprayed the attackers with the fog nozzle," he said. "They fell back quickly and fled."

Police were called but there was no further trouble. Police also dispersed the crowds at the Portsmouth and Sciotoville exchange.

The union has denied any knowledge of acts of vandalism on the part of strikers.

Six Nations To Run Suez Users' Assn.

LONDON (AP)—Six nations were named today to run the new Suez Canal Users' Assn. and chart ways for a peaceful settlement of the Suez crisis with Egypt. The nations were the United States, Britain, France, Italy, Norway and Iran.

A seventh nation will be appointed to the association's executive committee when the full membership of SCUA—now made up of 15 countries—is completed.

This was announced in a communique following the windup of the association's inaugural session.

Three nations—Pakistan, Japan and Ethiopia—attended the conference, which opened Monday, as observers because they had not yet decided whether to join. The communique said 'election of the seventh member of the executive will take place when these countries make up their minds. They are believed likely to join in the future. Ethiopia has been mentioned as the seventh executive committee member.

The committee will hold its first meeting in London next week.

The users' association idea, largely the brainchild of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, is a grouping of those countries which want a settlement of the Suez crisis based on international control of the canal to insure its unrestricted use by the ships of the world at all times.

Public May Enter Contest To Design Salem Civic Sign

The Salem Civic Committee at its meeting Thursday night in the Chamber of Commerce rooms on E. State St. made plans for a city-wide contest to select a design to be used on new signs to be placed on highways leading into the city.

Atty. W. J. Hunston, Civic Committee chairman, said a committee will be named to screen all entries. The several chosen best will be submitted to a public vote to determine the winner.

Hunston said the contest will be open to everyone, adults or school students. More information on the contest will be available later, he said.

School Superintendent E. S. Kerr and Mayor Dean B. Cranmer gave talks last night on the renewal of the 4½-mill school operational levy and the proposed half-mill levy for park improvements, respectively.

The committee will take formal action on the levies when it meets again Oct. 25.

About 16 persons attended last night's session.

CIO Supports Mike DiSalle

Bender Takes Strong Civil Rights Stand

By The Associated Press
Gubernatorial candidate Michael V. DiSalle, a Democrat, has the support today of the Ohio CIO Council's political education committee, which took a directly opposite stand from the state AFL.

The AFL last Friday gave its backing to DiSalle's opponent in the November election, Republican C. William O'Neill.

The selections by the CIO and AFL may serve to split the state's labor vote.

The CIO said it was recommending DiSalle because "of his proven ability as an outstanding administrator and his promise to dedicate his administration to the best interests of all the people."

In other state political developments Thursday:

DiSalle outlined a program for a strong vote drive in Cleveland.

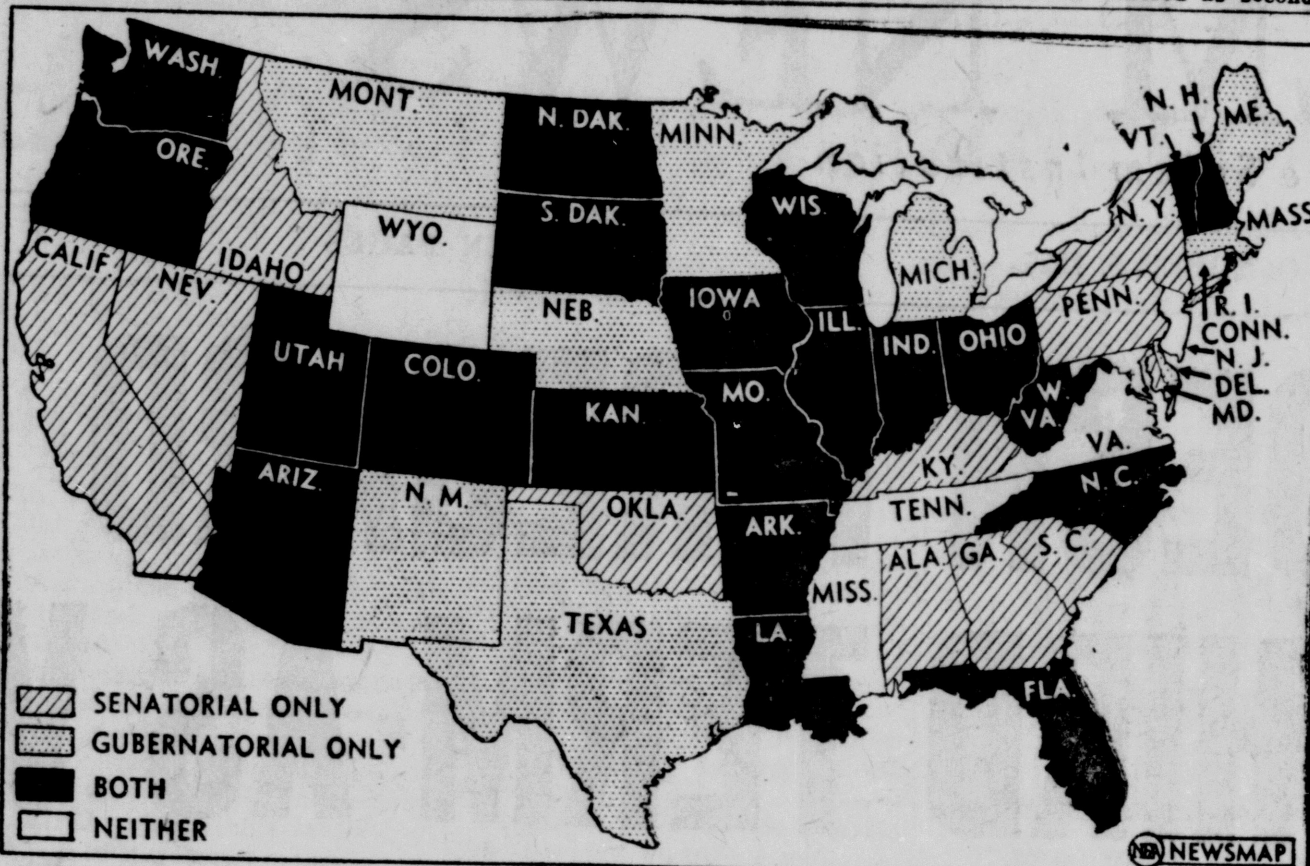

U.S. Sen. George H. Bender, Republican candidate for re-election in Ohio, took a strong pro-civil rights stand in a speech at Xenia.

William Saxbe, Republican candidate for attorney general to succeed O'Neill, predicted in a speech at Athens that what he called the "scurrilous campaign" against President Eisenhower will "drown the Democrats in defeat."

While the CIO committee supported DiSalle Thursday, it made no preference in the senatorial race between Bender and Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

The state AFL, however, had endorsed Bender over Lausche.

The CIO committee said DiSalle "has injected into the Ohio political scene a new vigor and enthusiasm."

HOUSE BATTLE—Four hundred and thirty-two Congressional districts will elect representatives to Congress on Nov. 6. Of these, 92 are in so-called marginal districts (see Newsmap) that were won in 1954 by 55 per cent of the vote or less. It is in these districts, most of them outside the South, where the battle for House control will be fought. The Republicans have 61 doubtful seats to defend this year, almost twice as many as the Democrats, who have 31. The party that wins control of the House has won every presidential election except one (in 1916) since 1896. In 1952 with Eisenhower heading the ticket the GOP captured control of the House by seven seats, 222-215. Maine elected two Republicans and one Democrat this September.

ism that has been badly needed to revitalize the two-party system in Ohio.

The committee added: "Ohio needs desperately a new and fresh approach to its mounting problems. DiSalle would meet that need."

DiSalle speaking in Cleveland said he would spend the last four or five days of his campaign there in an effort to build "a strong Cuyahoga County majority."

O'Neill's campaign headquarters in Columbus today released a statement by the Republican nominee saying Ohio shares the responsibility with the whole country to solve three fundamental problems of the field of higher education.

He listed these problems as "greatly increased enrollment" in colleges the quality of instruction and the need for more college trained graduates in the fields of science education and engineering.

"The question of numbers (enrollment) I think we can solve," O'Neill said. "We always do."

Bender in his Xenia speech before a GOP rally of some 500 persons chided Lausche as the "darling of the southern Democrats," and challenged the governor to explain his civil rights record.

The senator sailed into Lausche again for what he said was the governor's "refusal to discuss the issues."

Bender asserted that discrimination and racial intolerance deeply damages the country and pointed up what he said was his sponsorship of bills in Congress to wipe out such conditions.

O'Neill speaking at the same rally called for construction of a Columbus-to-Cincinnati superhighway.

One-Day Atom Plant Strike Is Ended

WAVERTLY, Ohio (AP)—A one-day "unauthorized" walkout ended Thursday at the atomic energy plant in nearby Piketon. All production and maintenance workers were off their jobs but failed to hinder production.

The strike began Wednesday afternoon. Both the Goodyear Atomic Corp., which operates the plant, and the president of the union involved—Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers, local 10689—said the walkout was unauthorized.

Charles Romine, the local's president, said some maintenance workers balked at being required to do work outside their job classifications, prompting the walkout.

Stevenson Greeted In Harlem; Cites Party's Civil Rights Stand

NEW YORK (AP)—Adlai Stevenson was buoyed today by a cheering reception from Negroes in civil rights-conscious Harlem.

The Democratic presidential nominee headed for the second World Series game in Brooklyn with confidence in his camp that he had surmounted a possibly critical juncture in his campaign.

His supporters regarded Harlem as something of a weather vane as to how he might fare in other populous Negro centers in Northern states with large electoral votes.

An outdoor crowd estimated by police at 1000 applauded his contention that Negroes had made their greatest gains with a Democrat in the White House.

They applauded also when he accused Republicans of a "brazen" attempt "to seize partisan credit for progress in civil rights."

The outdoor rally Thursday night was open to all comers, friends or foes of the Democratic ticket.

But if any of those attending were unfriendly, they were silent. Reporters covering the event heard no boos or jeers or any unfriendly remarks.

Loudest applause came when Stevenson reiterated previous assertions that "I support this decision" of the Supreme Court ruling segregation in public schools unlawful.

He quoted President Eisenhower as having said of the decision: "I think it makes no difference whether or not I endorse it."

At another point, Stevenson said Eisenhower has been "presented with an opportunity for great national leadership in this field" and had been "virtually silent."

Stevenson said Eisenhower last Monday credited Republicans with ending segregation in the armed forces, but that an executive order issued by President Truman in 1948 "sounded the death knell" of such segregation.

Stevenson said the order was issued despite testimony by Eisenhower, then chief of staff, before a congressional committee that complete desegregation in the armed forces would "get us into trouble."

"I don't," said Stevenson, "mind the President's trying to make off in broad daylight with the Democratic platform—he always returns it right after election day anyway—but he better stop trying to run on the Democratic record."

The Democrat said the Republicans claimed credit for stopping discrimination in employment by actually "all they did was to continue the work by the Fair Employment Practices Commission" under Presidents Roosevelt and Truman.

After the rally, Stevenson drove to the Savoy Ballroom where he was a guest at a reception given by a group of Negro businessmen.

Earlier, Stevenson addressed rallies in a Jewish-Italian-Puerto Rican district on Delancey Street on the lower East Side and a rally in a Puerto Rican-Italian district in East Harlem.

Miners Win New Contract

Lewis Gets His Union Fat New Wage Boost

CINCINNATI — Labor leader John L. Lewis nowadays is like a baseball slugger who gets walked every time he comes to bat. Nobody will fight him anymore.

The 76-year-old Lewis, still hale and hearty, signed a fat new wage contract for soft coal miners Thursday, calling for a $2.40 per day package raise in wages and holiday benefits.

The veteran president of the United Mine Workers Union said he couldn't help but mention, in passing, how the quick, peaceful negotiations leading to the new contract were a far cry from the "turbulence" of coal labor relations a few years ago.

In those days of tense, prolonged strikes and negotiations Lewis was tilting with presidents, congressional committees, courts and mainly the mine owners, or anyone else standing in his way.

The new coal contract is to run one year until Oct. 1, 1957 or longer, unless terminated by either side. It calls for a two-stage $2 per day boost in wages—$1.20 retroactive to last Monday, and another 80 cents next April 1—plus 40 cents per day worth of added holiday benefits. This will increase basic daily pay for miners to $22.25.

The new contract works out to a raise of about 30 cents an hour—about the biggest won in an industry this year. Also, it keeps miners in the top wage bracket paid in the nation.

Claims Police Forced Defendant To Confess
CINCINNATI — Defense counsel in the first degree murder trial of Denver Powell, 45, led off Thursday with the charge that police "harangued, threatened and cursed" Powell to obtain a confession.

Harry A. Abrams, defense attorney, told a jury of six men and six women that detectives questioned Powell in relays for three days.

Powell, who lists El Centro, Calif., as his hometown, is charged with aiding James Grigsby in a $38 delicatessen holdup here on Nov. 27, 1949. John Schreck, 61, owner of the delicatessen, was shot to death. Grigsby, who since has died, was named as the trigger man.

C. Watson Hoyer, Hamilton County prosecuting attorney, charged that Powell engineered the robbery because he needed money. Hoyer said he would produce three witnesses who remember that Powell threatened to shoot them if they went to the aid of the stricken Schreck.

The defense contended that Powell had not been in the delicatessen until the day of his arrest.

Farm Difficulties, Drought To Influence Oklahoma Vote

(EDITOR'S Note: This is another in a series of articles by AP's veteran political reporters who are surveying sentiment in key states across the country.)

By ARTHUR EDSON
KINGFISHER, Okla. (AP) — Will A. Struck, who farms 480 acres of wheat land hard hit by drought, leaned on the front fender of a parked car and readily expressed in his political sentiments.

"I'm mad," Struck said. "I'm mad." "About what?" "Everything," he said. So, Struck said, although he voted for Dwight D. Eisenhower for president in 1952, this time he will switch to the Democrats and Adlai E. Stevenson.

"My wheat crop," Struck said, "Wasn't worth a damn. Haven't had a good crop around here since 1952. Between Ike and the dry weather they're going to bust us poor old farmers."

In 1952, Eisenhower carried this normally Democratic state by 518,045 votes to Stevenson's 430,939.

The Democrats are betting that the dry prairies and the hill country have enough discontented farmers to move Oklahoma's eight electoral votes over to Stevenson.

Republicans say the farm revolt is over-rated. Anyway, they're betting on big majorities in Oklahoma City and Tulsa, where Eisenhower four years ago rolled up a formidable 52,000-vote advantage.

Walter E. Curry, Republican state chairman, predicts Eisenhower won't do as well as his 87,000 vote margin four years ago. Right now, Curry would be happy to settle for a victory of 35,000 to 50,000 votes.

On the Democratic side, Sen. Mike Monroney, one of Stevenson's staunchest supporters in Oklahoma, figures his man to win by 80,000 votes. He's banking heavily on farmer discontent to infect the small town merchant.

As for the state political reporters, they're so evenly divided that Oklahoma will have to go down as a truly doubtful state at this time.

With every ballot counting, the farmer seems to be the voter with the loudest complaint. So what he thinks takes on special significance.

Leon Whitaker, a young man who used to farm at Kingfisher (pop. 3,345) but now works for a drilling company in Buffalo, Okla., was talking with Eldin Baker, an insurance man.

"I tried farming seven years," Whitaker said, "but everything was against me. I had to quit. One farmer can't live on a quarter section of land (160 acres) any more and make a living. I know, I tried."

"And plenty of others have found out the same thing," Baker said.

Dry weather plus comparatively poor prices in relation to costs, Baker said, have whacked down the population of Kingfisher County from 28,000 to 12,700 since 1948.

And many farmers who remain make a living only by driving 44 miles into Oklahoma City to work each day, he said.

Yet neither blames the administration for the farmers' plight. Both voted for Eisenhower, and will do so again.

But A. G. Guth, who sells farm machinery, reports: "The Democrats who voted for Eisenhower are talking quite a bit about going back."

In a state where the outcome looks so close, James Gatewood, a filling station worker sums it up this way:

"Now you take this farm situation, if the Democrats are elected, that's what will do it."

Man to Wait In Jail Until Taverns Are Torn Down

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — William Darrow, 73, in court Thursday on a drunkenness charge—his 15th arrest—said his trouble stemmed from the 10 cent schooners of beer sold at a couple of local taverns.

"But I think we've got this thing licked now," Darrow told Judge Archie L. Gindoff, "because they are tearing down those buildings. One of the bars is already gone and the other is on the way."

"How long before the second one is torn down?" asked the judge.

"It will probably be about the 15th of the month," Darrow replied.

"Fine," said the judge. "We'll give you 10 days in the workhouse and that should carry you past the critical period."

Russians Take Note Of U. S. Rock 'n' Roll

MOSCOW, (AP) — The newspaper Soviet Culture said today the rock 'n' roll craze in the United States has the same effect on American youth as a tarantula's bite.

The organ of the Soviet Ministry of Culture took heavy slaps at U.S. "business men who are making money" from the craze, the performances of Elvis Presley, "which are always accompanied by wild scenes, brawls and fighting" and distribution of a film based on rock 'n' roll.

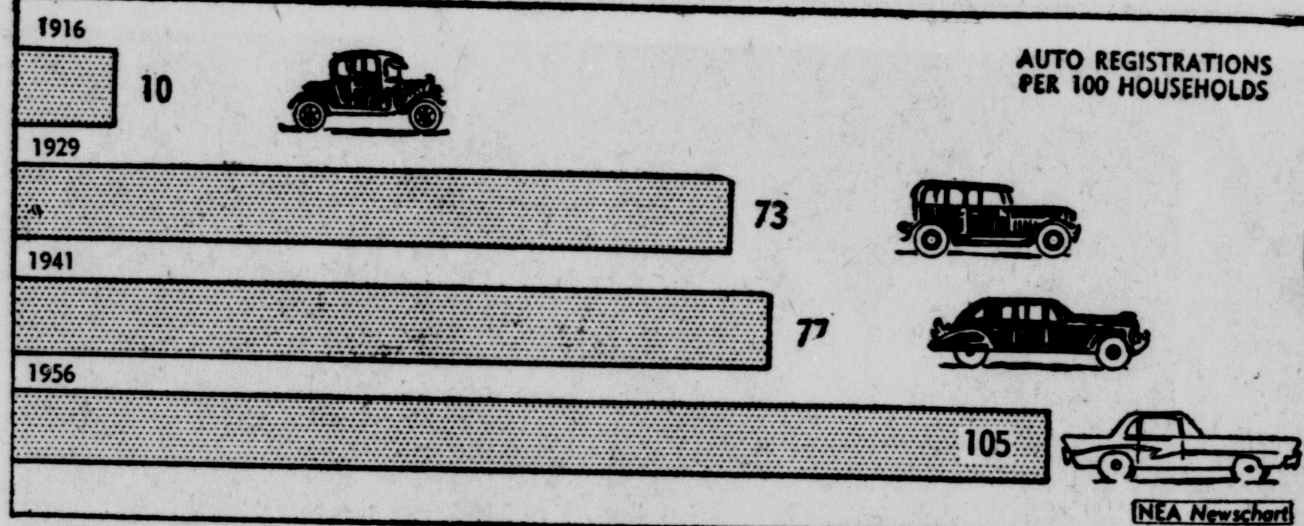

Apparently, the article said, "some people in the United States are quite satisfied with this method of making fools of youth. But as the saying goes, one harvests what one has sown."

Iceland Still Wants U. S. Troops To Leave

WASHINGTON (AP) — Iceland's Foreign Minister Emil Jonsson said today his country wants American troops withdrawn but perhaps "some specialists" could help maintain a big air base which Western countries believe essential to Atlantic Pact defense.

Jonsson made his comment at a news conference just before returning to Iceland after two days of confidential talks with State Department officials led by Secretary Dulles.

It is now, as always before," he said, "the traditional policy of Iceland to avoid the stationing of armed forces in Iceland."

Jonsson flew here from Reykjavik Sunday to talk with Dulles in line with a March 29 resolution by Iceland's Parliament which called for immediate negotiations to arrange withdrawal of some 4,000 American troops who have been operating the air base at Keflavik since December 1951.

After those talks wound up Wednesday American authorities were moderately hopeful that some sort of compromise could be worked out to keep the air base in operation as a sentinel against possible surprise attack.

Miss Lauretta Barnaby of Salem, chairman of the entertainment committee, was one of two young women to graduate from Salem High School in 1895. She was the granddaughter of Dr. Benjamin Stanton, Salem's first practicing physician and an ardent worker for the temperance cause.

Mrs. Mary Forhope of Salem was one of the devotional leaders. Those from Winona who had part on that first convention program were Mrs. Rhoda Walton, Miss Arvilla Harris, Miss Eva Brantingham and Miss Emma Davis.

U. S. Deeply Concerned About Tito's Talks With Khrushchev

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. government is reported to be still completely in the dark—and deeply concerned—about the purpose of Yugoslav President Tito's present talks with Russian leaders.

In this uncertain situation, State Department officials are considering Communist Yugoslavia's urgent request for emergency American wheat shipments to meet a severe shortage.

There was reason today to believe the wheat request may be separated from the broader problem confronting President Eisenhower, who faces a decision by Oct. 16 on whether or not Yugoslavia is still eligible for general economic and military assistance from the United States.

Want Word From Tito

There is hope at the State Department that before the deadline for his decision, there will be some word from Tito, relayed by U.S. Ambassador James W. Riddleberger. Dispatches from Belgrade and Moscow indicated Tito might return home today.

Officials here tend to discount the general speculation from Belgrade and elsewhere in Europe that Tito suddenly flew to the Crimea with Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev to help defend Khrushchev against colleagues critical of the program to discredit Joseph Stalin.

Official speculation in Washington tends to the line that Khrushchev asked Tito to go to Russia to debate Yugoslavia's relations with the Soviet Union and with the Eastern European satellite countries.

Adlai's Position On Draft Ripped

Nixon Says GOP Won't Hold Out False Hopes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Nixon has again swung hard at Adlai Stevenson's expressed hopes for ending the draft, saying the Republicans will not "hold out any false hopes" of such action.

Nixon said he thinks Stevenson is "a well intentioned man," but contended the Democratic candidate lacks the background and judgment of President Eisenhower in matters involving threats to peace and freedom.

Stevenson said the draft should be ended "at the earliest possible moment consistent with the national safety."

On a nationwide television interview Thursday night, Nixon said Republicans would like to be able to promise that compulsory military service could soon be abolished without impairing national safety. But he said they would "not kid the American people in an election year when we know there is no chance at this particular time for it to happen."

It would be completely irresponsible, Nixon said, to tell allies the United States is reducing its strength and still expect them to keep up their own full efforts.

Nixon promised that never, under Eisenhower, would "thousands of American boys" go into a war unprepared, as he said happened in Korea. "Some of them died because they did not have the training they need," Nixon said.

Repeatedly, Nixon appealed for the election of a Republican Congress as well as president.

He said drought stricken farmers would be better off if the Democratic congress had not balked at administration plans for early payment of soil bank benefits. Still, he said, the soil bank in the long run will help drought areas.

Nixon said congressional opposition also had blocked projects advocated by the President under his "partnership" policy for natural resources development.

He again denied Democratic charges that Eisenhower is against the "little man," saying he objected to this term for any American and that "for the great majority of Americans the Eisenhower years have been the best four years of our lives."

Ex-Boxer Charged With Slaying Girl

GUAM (AP) — A one-time Guam boxer was charged today with the brutal strangulation slaying of a Navy officer's 6-year-old daughter.

The body of the child, daughter of Lt. and Mrs. Morris D. Lease of 220 Morrison St., Fremont, Ohio, was found in some bushes half a block from a Baptist church where she was last seen.

Authorities said she apparently strayed away from the church while her mother was attending services Wednesday night.

Thomas A. Salas 24, a former prize fighter and a recent mental patient at a Honolulu hospital, was arrested after a school teacher reported seeing him near the spot where the body was found, police Capt. J. C. Quintanilla said.

Salas had been on a drinking spree prior to the slaying, the chief said. He was jailed at Agaña without bail pending arraignment Oct. 12.

A naval hospital autopsy said there was no immediate evidence the child had been sexually molested.

Plans for a full concert are underway.

The band is striving to obtain national championship in 1957. In order to enter this competition, the band must have a minimum membership of 72. Plans are being completed for a membership drive.

Musicians interested in joining the band are invited to attend regular rehearsals each Monday evening at 7:30 at the Legion Home. The band has been state champion for three years.

Strauss Denies U. S. Trails In Atomic Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission describes as "patently false" Sen. Estes Kefauver's statement that the United States trails Britain and Russia in atomic power development.

Strauss said the Democratic vice presidential nominee "further distorted the facts" and engaged in "malicious innuendo" in a Tuesday speech at Los Alamos, N. M., criticizing the Eisenhower administration's handling of atomic energy.

The White House made public Thursday night Strauss' "memorandum to the President." Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said President Eisenhower ordered the action to keep the facts straight.

Strauss said that when the present administration took office, "the development of atomic power for commercial use was stalled on dead center."

As a result of developments since then, he said, this country will have in operation at Shippingport, Pa., next year, what he called "the first large, full-scale atomic power plant in the world, exclusively for civilian use."

Sixteen others are under construction or planned for completion by 1962, Strauss said.

Leetonia Father Gets Ballots For 3 Servicemen Sons

LEETONIA — A Leetonia father filed applications with the County Election Board yesterday to make certain his three sons serving in the Air Force—and a daughter-in-law—will have a voice in the Nov. 6 general election.

Otto C. Heberling filed the applications on behalf of Airman First Class Carl V. Heberling, who resides in Bedford, Mass., Airman First Class Otto C. Heberling Jr., who is on duty in the Pacific, and Airman Second Class Russell W. Heberling, who has an Army Post Office address in New York City and presumably is serving in Europe or the Atlantic.

He also requested an application for a civilian's absentee ballot for Carl's wife, who resides with him in Bedford.

The Election Board issued the ballots for the three servicemen immediately, as it is permitted to do under the Ohio "soldier voting" law when the application is filed by a near relative. In the case of the airman's wife, it issued an application for ballots which she must fill out and return.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said it was the first instance of his memory in which a father or mother applied for ballots for three servicemen sons at one time. Heberling told the board he has four other children.

3,800 Idled In Ford Co. Strike

CLEVELAND (AP) — A day-old strike at Ford Motor Co.'s Walton Hills stamping plant had spread today to include most of its 3,800 workers and brought production at the plant—nationally known as an example of automation—to a near standstill.

The wildcat walkout started Thursday morning with about 400 second-shift workers. It kept nearly 1,000 of 1,400 third shift workers idle Thursday night and continued with the early-morning first shift from which more than two-thirds of the workers were absent.

At issue, a United Auto Workers (UAW) spokesman said, was the return to work of a foreman the union said had slugged a union committeeman during argument about a grievance. The foreman had been suspended four days and demoted.

The union advised the company that the other employees would not work if this foreman was on the job. The company took the position that it could not discuss the issue until all workers were back at work and that the stoppage was in violation of the UAW contract.

Large Crowd Attends Newsmen's Program

James Gregg, past exalted ruler of the Elks Lodge, spoke when the Elks Lodge observed National Newspaper Week with a program Thursday night in the Elks Home.

Newspapermen from Salem, Lisbon, Leetonia, Columbiana and East Palestine were among the large crowd which attended.

National Newspaper Week is sponsored annually by the Newspaper Association Managers Inc. to underscore the importance of a free press as the keystone to American liberties. The Order of the Elks has joined in the observance since 1949. E. J. Blackburn, exalted ruler of the local lodge, said.

er said that he wouldn't classify the chances as bright or right around the corner.

H-bomb—it would be foolish, the President said, to stop unilaterally the testing of hydrogen bombs. He said there should be some definite international agreement before anything along that line is attempted, as otherwise Russia could go ahead with tremendous advances while the United States stood still.

Stevenson had proposed stopping tests, but with assurances from Russia that the Soviets also would do this.

Minimum wage—Asked whether he thought the $1-an-hour minimum wage should be raised, Eisenhower said that first he wants to see minimum wage coverage for people who haven't got it.

Schools — Eisenhower said it looks to him as though the best way to finance new schools is by the federal government putting up half the money and the states half. He said the federal money should be distributed on a basis of need as the first consideration.

The President discussed the school financing situation when a reporter asked how communities could hold down the cost of interest when his policies were for higher interest.

The reporter said the Federal Reserve Board and raised interest rates. Eisenhower said the federal reserve board isn't under his control.

Suez—Eisenhower repeated previous expressions of hope that the troublesome Suez situation can be settled by peaceful negotiation.

He said that has been the American position from the beginning, a belief that this is possible.

Military strength — Eisenhower declared firmly that it never has been the intention of his administration to cut the strength of his country's armed forces.

He said that reductions in manpower have been pegged to introduction of new weapons.

Eisenhower is stepping up his campaigning and has wedged an extra 24 hours into a foray into the northwest.

Eisenhower will make a major radio-TV speech in Pittsburgh next Tuesday, one of the recent additions to his schedule.

This fits into a pattern of a gradually enlarged personal participation by Eisenhower in the battle to keep him in the White House. Last week he disclosed that he was stepping up his campaign activity by billing at least two or three more major speeches.

Vice President Nixon who talked at length with Eisenhower Thursday reportedly wants the chief executive to get out and greet as many people in as many places as possible in the month remaining before election.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty announced that Eisenhower may stretch out his visit to the Pittsburgh area next Tuesday and will add another day to his trip that will take Eisenhower to Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn., Seattle and Tacoma Wash., and Portland Ore., starting Oct. 16.

The extra day will be spent in Seattle. As of Thursday Hagerty called it a free day that night he used for speech drafting. But he also said Eisenhower's plans were subject to change.

So how long and how free the day would be was a question. It seemed unlikely Eisenhower would fly clear across the continent just to spend a day polishing speeches.

Kidnaped Girl's Mother Enters Institution

MIDDLETOWN, Conn. (AP) — The frail mother of kidnaped and murdered Cynthia Ruotolo entered a state mental institution Thursday night.

State's Atty. Abraham S. Ullman, who is heading the investigation into the 6-week-old baby's death, said he understood 33-year-old Eleanor Ruotolo had asked to be admitted to the Connecticut State Hospital. He said he did not know why.

A spokesman at the hospital said all questions about Mrs. Ruotolo, wife of a paint salesman, would have to await arrival of hospital officials sometime today.

Cynthia disappeared from her carriage left by Mrs. Ruotolo in a Sears Roebuck department store in Hamden on Sept. 1.

The infant's body was found five days later in a lake, about a mile from the store. It was stuffed in an air tight plastic bag and weighted with a stone.

Tito-Khrushchev Talks Seen Not Successful

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — President Tito returned today from an eight-day visit to the Soviet Union.

Authoritative sources here express the opinion that Tito and Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev failed to settle whatever policy row may exist between the two governments and communist parties.

Tito left her on what was billed as a vacation in the Soviet Crimea. His trip followed a visit by Khrushchev to Yugoslavia, also officially described as a vacation. But informed sources said there were discussions of crucial matters, including differences of an ideological nature, between the Russians and the Yugoslav leader with whom Moscow feuded from 1948 until after the death of Stalin.

British sources made it clear that they didn't like this idea. They said: Britain is going to go ahead with her resolution. If Egypt has some plans Britain is prepared to listen, but Britain is not prepared to negotiate about a negotiation.

Newcombe Faces Larsen As Dodgers Seek 2nd Straight

Postponement Seen Aiding Brooklyn's Series Chances

By JOE REICHLER

BROOKLYN (AP) — Their chance to win their first World Series game delayed 24 hours by rain, Don Newcombe, Brooklyn's biggest winner in 32 years and Don Larsen, New York's hottest pitcher in September, tried it again at Ebbets Field today. Pleasant weather was forecast.

The postponement, first since 1951, failed to dim the enthusiasm of the baseball hungry fans, who were expected to jam the ancient park just as they did in Wednesday's opening game when 34,479, saw Sal Maglie pitch the Dodgers to a 6-3 triumph.

Scheduled to be among the spectators was Adlai Stevenson, Democratic candidate for president.

Latest odds made today's game as well as the series an even money, pick 'em affair. Had the game been played Thursday, the Yankees would have gone off a 6 to 5 favorite.

"The price for today's game dropped because the extra day's rest figures to help Newcombe," a price-maker explained. The series price dropped because Sal Maglie will be able to get another day's rest.

Commissioner Ford Frick called the game off Thursday after examining the field and learning that a long, heavy rain was forecast.

"No World Series game ever has been stopped short of nine innings," he said. "It is my responsibility to the players and fans."

Looking Back

By The Associated Press

Twenty-five years ago today Burleigh Grimes pitched a two-hitter and batted in two runs to lead the St. Louis Cardinals to a 5-2 victory over the Philadelphia A's. Al Simmons hummed for h A's leotard Al Simmons homered for the A's.

Fifteen years ago today — Charley Keller collected four hits and had three RBIs as the Yankees beat the Dodgers 7-4 to take a 3-1 edge in the series.

Five years ago today — Eddie Lopat of the Yanks set the Giants down on five hits for a 3-1 victory. Joe Collins hit a home run for the winners.

Three years ago today — Billy Martin singled home the winning run in the last of the ninth inning to give the Yanks a 4-3 triumph over the Dodgers and the series, four games to two.

Hinnant, Anthony To Box In Washington Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Clarence Hinnant, a home town boy and a knockout specialist, bids for national light heavyweight recognition tonight in a 10-round meeting with Tony Anthony of New York at Capitol Arena.

Hinnant, 23 and a professional for six years, is credited with 16 knockouts while winning 21 of his 29 starts. He floored his last three opponents — Al Andrews, Willie Troy and Julio Carreras, the Cuban light heavyweight champion.

Anthony, ranked by Ring Magazine as the No. 7 light heavyweight contender, also is expert at the hard punch. He has won 27 of 31 pro starts, 21 by knockouts. The fight will be televised over NBC at 9 p.m. EST.

that no game has to be called because of adverse weather conditions."

Casey Stengel, Yankee manager, did not like the postponement but neither did Walter Alston, the Dodger skipper.

"It could be better for Maglie," Alston said. "Now the fifth game will be Monday so it will enable Maglie to get another day of rest."

"However, I would much prefer to have played as scheduled. We're on a winning wave. We're hitting. A day off might hurt. And another day of rest for Newcombe might not be good."

Newcombe was inclined to agree with his manager.

"I don't particularly like the postponement," said the Dodgers' 27 game winner. "I've been pitching all year with only three day's rest and I'm much better that way. The extra day affects my control."

Despite the washout, Newcombe worked out in uniform. He did not throw but ran for 25 minutes in the outfield.

Larsen, an 11 game winner this year, was Stengel's choice over Tom Sturdivant because of his last four September performances, all of them low hit affairs. The big righthander in his lone series start, last year, lasted only four innings. Newcombe has started three World Series games against the Yankees and lost them all.

Stengel juggled his lineup for today's game, shifting Billy Martin to third base in place of Andy Carey and playing Jerry Coleman at second. The old man also replaced first baseman Bill Skowron with Joe Collins.

Alston went with his same lineup but elevated the southpaw hitting Sandy Amoros from eighth to sixth, dropping Carl Furillo to seventh and Roy Campanella to eighth in the batting order.

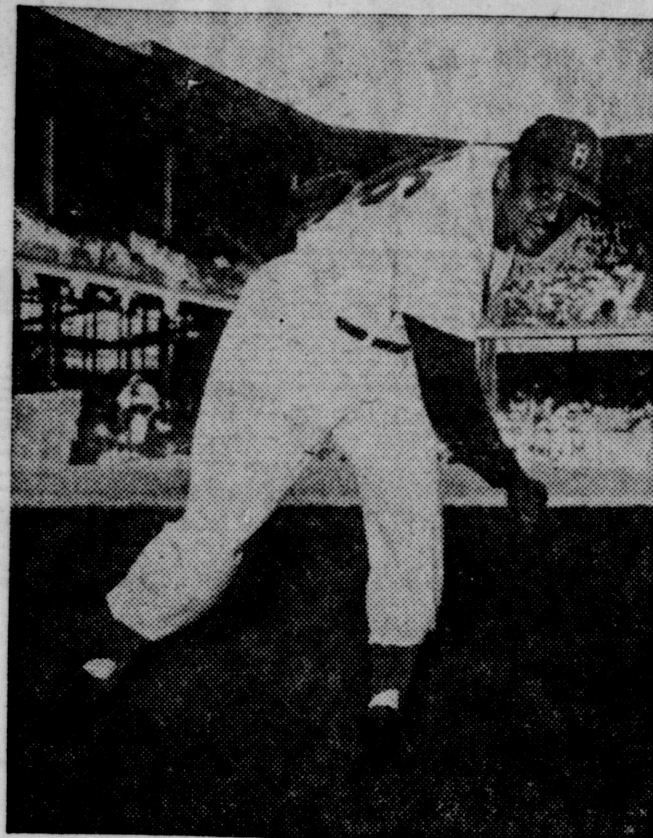

Rumors persisted that Mickey Mantle, Yankee slugger, is far from recovered from his groin injury. Mickey himself insisted he was all right but observers noted that Maglie didn't get the proper jump on two fly balls which fell in front of him for base hits in Wednesday's opener. Certainly his vaunted speed was not apparent in his handling of the bloop hits.

BROOKLYN (AP) — Probable lineups for today's second World Series game at Ebbets Field (1st game batting averages in parentheses):

New York (257) Bauer, rf (.400) Slaughter, lf (.600) Mantle, cf (.333) Berra, c (.000) Collins, 1b (.000) Medougald, ss (.000) Martin, 3b (.333) G. Coleman, 2b (.000) Larsen, p (11-5)

Brooklyn (.281) Gilliam, 2b (.000) Reese, ss (.500) Snider, cf (.333) Robinson, 3b (.250) Hodges, 1b (.500) Amoros, lf (.333) Furillo, rf (.250) Campanella, c (.250) Newcombe, p (27-7)

Umpires — Soar (A) plate, Boggs (N) first base, Napp (A) second base, Pinelli (N) third base, Runge (A) left field line, Gorman (N) right field line. Game time, 12 noon (EST).

SECOND-GAME STARTERS — Big Don Newcombe, left, Brooklyn righthander, and Don Larsen, right, of the Yankees, will be the opposing pitchers in the second game of the World Series. Newcombe won 27 while losing seven in 1956; Larsen finished with an 11-5 record for the Yanks.

Dodgers Fear Berra More Than Mantle

BROOKLYN (AP) — The Yankee most feared by the Dodgers is not Mickey Mantle — it's Yogi Berra, says Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson.

"That's the man who hurts us most," said the veteran infielder of the hustling New York catcher. "We'd a lot rather have Mantle up there in a tight spot than Berra."

Although Mantle is the American League's triple offense champion — batting leader at .353, home run king with 52 and tops in runs-batted-in with 130 — the Dodgers, says Jackie, are more afraid of Yogi's ability to come through in a clutch.

"We figure that if we can stop Berra, we can stop the Yankees. If Berra is hot, we figure we're in bad trouble. This is a fighter—he'll try to whip you with a toothpick."

Robinson said the Dodgers get a particular kick out of beating the Yankees because of the "aura of invincibility that has been built up around them."

"We don't look on them as a bunch of prima donnas," added the Brooklyn third baseman. "We respect them as tough ball players. We know they're good and we just try to prove we're better."

Robinson said if the Dodgers had to vote on the second most feared man on the Yankee club it would be Whitey Ford, the pitcher who lost the opening game 6-3.

"Whitey didn't have it against us in that first game," Jackie said. "But he's a great pitcher. If he's right he can beat anybody in any park. It's not going to be pleasant meeting him again."

Then Jackie's fierce team pride came to the fore. "But if it's Ford against Maglie (Sal Maglie, winner of the opening game, I'll have to go with the Old Master. The Old Master (the Dodgers' name for Maglie), in my book, is the greatest fighter I ever saw in baseball."

Minneapolis — Al Andrews, St. Paul, outpointed Leroy Green, Kansas City, Mo. (middle weights but exact weights not available).

Washington May Move Team To California

WASHINGTON (AP) — A shift of Washington's American League baseball club to California in time for next year's season was reported to be under consideration today.

The Washington Post and Times Herald quoted club president Calvin Griffith as saying in New York City that he has such a plan "under consideration" and that an offer made by Los Angeles City officials "looks very attractive to us in many ways."

Griffith, who is in New York for the World Series, was further quoted as saying:

"If we make the move, the Griffith family will still retain control of the team. We do not plan to sell to anybody."

Both Los Angeles and San Francisco have long sought a major league franchise. Washington finished eighth and seventh, respectively, during the last two seasons, and trailed the major leagues in attendance.

101,000 To See Spartans Play Michigan

CHICAGO (AP) — It's only the second conference game of the season, but the Big Ten championship and a trip to the Rose Bowl may hinge on the outcome of Saturday's clash between Michigan State and Michigan.

A tremendous crowd of 101,000 at Ann Arbor, Mich., will watch the 49th renewal of this interstate rivalry. Seven other games involving Big Ten teams must take a back seat to this one.

Michigan State is ranked No. 2 and Michigan No. 5 in the AP poll. A Michigan State victory would give the Spartans a clear shot at the Big Ten title since they do not meet defending champion Ohio State.

If Michigan wins, the Wolverines would be odds-on favorites for the Rose Bowl bid. They play Ohio State later in the season, but the Buckeyes, along with Michigan State, are ineligible for the Pasadena journey.

Disciplinary action knocked Ohio State out of a shot at the bowl and Michigan State is barred by the rule against repeat appearances.

Another conference match pits Purdue against Minnesota. The winner will rank as a dark horse for the Rose Bowl nomination if Michigan falters.

Four battles between Big Ten and Pacific Coast Conference representatives also highlight Saturday's schedule. They included Southern California at Wisconsin, Stanford at Ohio State, Oregon State at Iowa and Illinois at Washington.

Ohio State, Iowa and Illinois are favored to win and give the Big Ten a convincing 7-1 edge in play between the two conferences. Western Conference teams won all four inter-league games last week.

Southern California, however, is expected to have to much power for an inexperienced Wisconsin team. In Jon Arnett and C. R. Roberts, the Trojans have two of the finest backs in the nation.

In other games, Northwestern's rejuvenated Wildcats play host to an experienced Tulane eleven, and Indiana travels to Notre Dame for the 25th renewal of another "neighborhood" rivalry.

Notre Dame is favored to trip the Hoosiers by three touchdowns, largely because of the wizardry of quarterback Paul Hornung. Tulane is a slight favorite over Northwestern.

Salem Tool Cagers Will Open Practice

The Salem Tool & Die team will practice basketball from 7 to 10 p.m. Monday at the Memorial Building.

Anyone interested in trying out for the team is welcome to attend the practice. The team will play in Class A again this year.

Lisbon Will Play At East Palestine

The Lisbon-East Palestine grid game tonight will be played at East Palestine instead of at Lisbon as reported in Thursday's News.

Fifth Game To Indicate What Rain Did For Dodger Chances

By ED WILKS

BROOKLYN (AP) — Just what Thursday's rain did to, or for, the Brooklyn Dodgers in the World Series may not be known until Monday's fifth game—if there is one.

The Dodgers lead the series 1-0 at the moment, but there are very few who consider they'll take the New York Yankees in four straight.

The fifth game could be the "big" one, and that's where the Dodgers may have gained an edge with Thursday's rain out. The first series postponement since 1951. The rain gave Sal Maglie, Brooklyn's grand old man who won the opener 6-3 with three days rest, an extra day before his tentative start in the fifth game.

"I would have liked to have played Thursday," said Dodger manager Walt Alston. "We've been hitting pretty well, and I'd like to keep playing while we're hot."

"And maybe the rain will make (Don) Newcombe better today, or maybe it will make him worse."

The postponement pushed the entire series schedule back a day. The three-game shift to Yankee Stadium will start Saturday, instead of today, and the fifth game, originally set for Sunday, now is scheduled for Monday.

Alston's not conceding his Dodgers cannot win it in four. But he's looking ahead to all possibilities.

Newcombe a 27-game winner who has a bone to pick with the Yankees and his critics, has worked with only three days rest most of the season. Now he'll be going with four "and sometimes that extra day can make you miss the corners," said Newk.

"The big righthander is 0-3 in the series, losing to the Yankees twice in 1949 and once last year, when he was knocked out of the opener and never came back because of a sore shoulder.

"They say I can't win the big ones," groused Newcombe. "But when you win 27 you'd think some of 'em gotta be big ones."

The rain also gave relief pitcher Clem Labine a rest. He had been up and down in the bullpen, all through Maglie's winning job Wednesday.

"I considered Clem as my opener if Sal hadn't been ready," said Alston. "But I can't think of him as a starter unless we can get through a game where he doesn't have to throw in the bullpen. If Newk gets through today, I'd like to start Labine in the first game at the stadium."

The last time a series game was postponed by rain it helped Yank were trailing 2-1 in games to the Yankees. They were trailing 2-1 in games to the New York Giants in 1951 when rain delayed the fourth game a day.

Allie Reynolds, their big righthander, had lost the opener. The rest of the staff had been worked hard over the first three games. Then the rain gave Reynolds another day of rest, and he came back to eight-hit the Giants and win 6-2. The Yankees won the next two to take the championship.

Who did Reynolds beat in that fourth game?
A fellow named Sal Maglie.

Brown To Cut 2 More Players After Steeler Game Saturday

Says Team May Need Rebuilding

Brown Says Movies Indicate Loafing

CLEVELAND (AP)—What happens in Pittsburgh Saturday night against the Steelers probably will determine which two players the Cleveland Browns will cut from their roster next week.

"We'll see what happens Saturday night," said Coach Paul Brown. "Then we'll make the decisions."

"It may be we'll have to do some rebuilding, and this is the last opportunity to pick up some of the better boys."

Brown said that after he studied movies of last Sunday's game he felt there might be more candidates for the cutting axe than he at first believed.

"Players who seemed all set could go," Brown said. "That game against the Cardinals indicated that some either didn't have the desire or perhaps just don't have it any more."

Last week the Browns trimmed down to 35, but before their third game, the home opener with the Giants, they must cut to the league limit of 33. They have been allowed to carry two extra men for the first two weeks of the regular season because halfback Preston Carpenter and tackle Don Goss spent the early part of their training season with the College All-Stars.

Only two Browns have been out with injuries during this week's training. Abe Giron has a leg injury, and punter Horace Gillom turned up Thursday with a pulled leg muscle.

Hunting Club To Hold Ham Shoot Sunday

The Salem Hunting Club will sponsor the first of a series of ham and turkey shoot Sunday at 1:30 p.m. at the club grounds.

The participants in the shoot must furnish their own guns, but the club will provide shells. Additional shoots will be held Oct. 12, 21, and 28th. The public is invited to participate.

Stengel Juggles His Lineup For Today's Game

BROOKLYN (AP)—Casey Stengel's decision to juggle his lineup for the second game of the World Series was construed by some experts today as an indication that the grizzled manager of the Yankees was greatly concerned over his team's opening game loss to Brooklyn.

This interpretation was made after Stengel announced, following Thursday's postponement, that he would bench third baseman Andy Carey and first baseman Bill Skowron in favor of Jerry Coleman and Joe Collins. Coleman would play second, he said, and Billy Martin would be shifted to third. Collins, of course, would play first.

Casey merely scoffed at the experts' views.

"I have decided on these moves simply because it will help our double plays," he said. "Coleman played fine ball the last couple of weeks. He is the greatest pivot man I ever have seen."

Infield changes are part of the Yankee pattern. They made 213 double plays this year with 26 combinations of infielders sharing in most of them.

Stengel didn't explain why he decided to replace Skowron with Collins but it was believed he wanted to get more lefthanded hitting strength against righthander Don Newcombe. But Sal Maglie is a righthander and Skowron, a righthanded hitter, was used against him in the opener.

Bill had a bad day at the plate against Maglie, going hitless in four times at bat. Collins is remembered for his two home runs in the opening game of the 1955 series against the Dodgers.

In Stengel's revised batting order, Collins hit fifth and Coleman eighth. The others remained unchanged.

Stengel revealed he had almost decided to change his second game pitching selection. For a time he contemplated switching from Don Larsen to Tom Sturdivant. Then, after discussing the matter with Jim Turner, his pitching coach, Casey decided to stick to his original choice.

"Larsen was out strongest pitcher in the last few weeks of the season," he said. "He deserves the shot."

If the postponement bothered Casey he didn't show it.

"Our guys can hit in any kind of weather," he said. "They don't care one way or the other."

Stengel didn't mention it but the postponement might have been a good thing for the Yankees because it gives Whitey Ford a chance to pitch against the Dodgers in Yankee Stadium either Sunday or Monday.

Ohio's Duck Hunting Season Opens Oct. 15

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's 70-day duck-hunting season opens Oct. 15 and ends Dec. 2, with shooting limited to the period between a half-hour before sunrise to a half-hour before sunset.

The state division of wildlife said Thursday the early-season hunters probably would have only home-grown waterfowl at which to fire, since no mass movement of birds from the Canadian marshes has started.

All hunters who have reached their 16th birthday, except owners, tenants or farm managers on their own land, must have an Ohio hunting license. Also, all must have a federal duck stamp.

Early season marksmen will have less game at which to shoot, but will have more time to spend in the blinds. The first day's sunrise-sunset period is about 11 hours and 11 minutes. The closing day period is 9 hours and 20 minutes, with the others graduated between those limits.

The division reminded hunters the daily bag limit on ducks is four, with a limit of eight in possession after the first day; the limit on geese is five, with not more than two Canadian geese or two white-fronted geese included; that the season is closed on wood ducks, and killing of the latter will cost from $15 to $20 each, plus court costs.

The sunrise-sunset figures, which differ some 13 minutes on opposite sides of the state apply to the area in which the shooter is doing his hunting—not on a statewide basis.

Miami To Face Boston Tonight

UCLA To Face Strong Oregon Team In West

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
The Associated Press

Hopeful Miami and harrassed UCLA kick off October's first weekend of football tonight and even competition from the World Series can't detract from the widespread interest in what's to follow.

The sophomore-loaded Floridians, 14-6 winners over South Carolina in their opener last week, face untested Boston College as they seek another season as successful as last year's. Miami was 18th in the final 1955 rating by The Associated Press poll of sport writers and broadcasters. This week's poll put Miami in a 13th place tie with Illinois.

UCLA, last year's Pacific Coast Conference champion, is trying to balance its remaining manpower after penalties inflicted for illegal payments to athletes. The Bruins took a thumping from Michigan last week and now they face Oregon, which with two non-league victories, appears one of the stronger conference teams.

A Skyline Conference game between Denver and Montana and George Washington and Hardin-Simmons rounds out the major Friday night program. Then comes a tremendous Saturday schedule with heavy emphasis on intersectional games.

Nine of the top ten teams in the current AP ratings are listed for important contests with Michigan State (No. 2) and Michigan (No. 5) meeting at Ann Arbor in the headliner. This game could well decide the Big Ten championship, although both Michigan State and defending champion Ohio State (No. 4) are ineligible for the Rose Bowl.

Michigan gave a very impressive performance in its 42-13 opening victory over UCLA last week, but so did State in beating Stanford 21-3. Stanford travels east this week to face Ohio State's Buckeyes.

Oklahoma, which easily held its No. 1 rating in a 36-0 opening victory over North Carolina, goes after its 32nd consecutive victory against Kansas State, already beaten twice. Georgia Tech (No. 3) has an open date. For the next five teams it's Mississippi (6) vs. Houston, Pittsburgh (7) at California, Texas Christian (8) vs. Arkansas, Tennessee (9) at Duke in a real toughie and Southern California at Wisconsin.

The Big Ten is involved in three more important intersectional games — Iowa-Oregon State, Northwestern-Tulane and Washington-Illinois — and a conference clash between Minnesota and Purdue. Indiana faces Notre Dame, which had a week off after losing its opener to Southern Methodist.

Other tests between major powers of different sections include Missouri-SMU, Texas-West Virginia, Rice-Louisiana, State, Maryland-Baylor, Arizona-Utah State, Tulsa-Marquette and William and Mary-Boston University.

The Eastern and Southern teams are mostly stay-at-homes. The East's big independents again overshadow the Ivy Leaguers with Army and Penn State clashing in the main attraction while surprising Colgate plays Holy Cross. Navy's promising team visits Cornell at Ithaca, N.Y. In the Ivy League favored Yale meets improving Brown. Princeton plays Columbia and non-winning Pennsylvania meets Dartmouth.

The Southeastern Conference offers Alabama-Vanderbilt, Florida-Kentucky and Georgia-Mississippi State; the Atlantic Coast Conference has Wake Forest-Virginia, South Carolina-North Carolina and North Carolina State vs. Clemson, the league's only unbeaten team. Only Southern Conference game is Richmond-VMI.

Other major conference tussles include: Kansas-Colorado and Nebraska-Iowa State (Big Seven), Wichita-Oklahoma A&M (Missouri Valley), Brigham Young-Utah and Colorado A&M-Wyoming (Skyline) and Idaho-Washington State (Pacific Coast).

Inside Labor

For the first time since Harry S. Truman initially came to New York alone as a Senator, quietly shaking the few hands that were available for Franklin Roosevelt's running mate, he was all alone at the telephone this week.

He had more time to be a than ever before. As he sat in his daughter's new apartment, he was sought out neither by politician nor labor leader.

True, the ex-President did travel about the city with his good friend, Gov. Averell Harriman. But for the most part, the men who once sought him out shunned him. If there was a single call from a labor leader — including those who once called him their "best business agent" — it isn't on record.

MR. TRUMAN HAD attacked Adlai Stevenson and that was his last move.

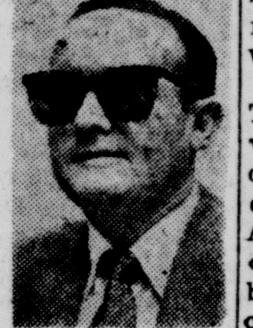

enough. The ex-President had written himself out of the book and his projects out of the treasuries of the labor men. They were too busy raising funds and running rallies for Stevenson to bother with Truman.

There was no personal animus. There was just fear that Harry would cut loose with some phrase or jibe that might cost Stevenson a few votes in each district. And in New York, just as in some other doubtful states, that could be enough to lose for the Democrats.

The labor leaders, now politicians round-the-clock, have analyzed the votes and know that in 1954 Averell Harriman defeated Republican Sen. Irving Ives by a "fraction more than one vote per precinct."

IN NEW JERSEY in the same year, one vote per precinct elected the Clifford Case, Republican, to the U.S. Senate. In Ohio, just about one vote in very few polling places would have put Thomas Burke, New Dealer, into the Senate. In Oregon, a switch of fewer than one vote per precinct would have defeated Dick Neuberger —

More Counties May Be Added To Ohio Farm Disaster Area

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Expansion of the disaster area program for northeastern Ohio farmers appeared possible today. The U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) indicated it wanted to "re-examine the situation."

Under the program, eligible farmers in Portage, Geauga, Lake, Mahoning, Trumbull and Ashtabula counties are entitled to government loans at 3 per cent interest.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche said he had received no answer to a letter he sent President Eisenhower urging that more than 30 counties be placed in the disaster category due to bad farming weather.

But the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation said Thursday the state farmers' home administration (FHA) director Howard Goddard, wants an investigation of the six counties now receiving aid, and others in the area, to determine the need for an emergency feed program.

The farm bureau declared many livestock farmers need feed as much as they need low interest loans. It said the USDA information came in response to a request that the department "re-examine the situation in light of early frosts."

D. R. Stanfield, executive secretary of the bureau, said the USDA telegram specifically mentioned Medina and Wayne counties for study and left the door open for neighboring counties to the south and east, pending outcome of the FHA investigation.

Divorce Granted Wife Of Rochester's Son

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A default divorce has been granted the wife of Billy Anderson, son of comedian Eddie (Rochester) Anderson.

Mrs. Geraldyn Anderson, 28, testified Thursday that the former track and football star struck her during an argument over two pies she had baked. The couple, married March 13, 1955, have no children.

Anderson, also 28, is free on bond pending appeal of a federal narcotics conviction.

Young Woman Kidnaps Baby

Boy Taken Thursday Night From His Crib

CHICAGO (AP) — Police hunted today for a month-old baby boy who, his mother told police, was kidnapped Thursday night from his crib by a young woman she had befriended.

Some 100 policemen joined the search for the baby and the alleged kidnaper.

The baby's mother, Mrs. Lois Bucher, 21, told police she had met the woman, described as about 22 and an expectant mother in a store near her Southwest Side home Thursday afternoon.

She said the woman, a stranger, admired her baby, Ronald Joseph, and expressed the hope hers would be as beautiful. When the woman told her she was feeling ill Mrs. Bucher invited her to her home "to rest until you feel better."

Mrs. Bucher told police the woman told her her name was "Gladys" and she lived in suburban Cicero. She added the woman confided she didn't want the baby she was expecting because "my husbands drinks and runs around with women."

After the woman had been in her basement apartment at 4115 Archer Ave. for about three hours Mrs. Bucher hinted she wanted her to leave so she could prepare dinner for her husband, Thomas R., 29, who works in a gas station.

When the woman wouldn't take the hint, Mrs. Bucher said, she told her she had to go to a drug store to telephone her husband. The woman accompanied her, leaving the baby asleep in his crib.

At the drug store the woman said she felt ill again and insisted they return to the Bucher home. Finally, Mrs. Bucher said, she asked the woman to leave. She then asked Mrs. Bucher to go to the drug store and telephone for a cab.

Mrs. Bucher said she was gone about five or six minutes and when she returned the stranger and the baby were gone.

Police said Mrs. Bucher was hysterical when they arrived at her home and it was more than an hour before she could give details of the abduction.

Science Envisions Manned Space Satellites —

Cargo-ferrying rockets, at left, designed to lift material for an inhabited earth satellite, are shown in a sketch at the Seventh International Astronautical Congress in Rome, Italy. Such space craft are envisioned as the next project after the first instrument-bearing earth satellite is launched in the months ahead. Newsmap, below, locates Cape Canaveral, Fla., where preliminary tests of rocket units to hurl the initial satellite spaceward will get under way this November.

11 Youths Held For Burglaries

Boys Confess Stealing $1,000 In 14 Places

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A string of 14 burglaries of business places here in the last five weeks, with losses running to a total of about $1,000 has been solved with the round-up of a gang of 11 youths.

William E. Evans, chief Lake County deputy sheriff, said the boys were arrested and signed confessions admitting the string of burglaries. Biggest haul was $500 worth of bottled wine taken from the Gil Schwartz Distributor Co. in five separate forays.

Evans said the boys divided up the work with three or four going on each of the burglary missions.

Three were attempting to enter the Three Bears store on U. S. 20 east of here when a deputy surprised them fired a shot, and pursued them across a field. They got away, but abandoned a car and its license number was traced to a gang member who implicated the others.

Eight of the boys, 15 to 17, are held in the juvenile detention ward. Three others, aged 19 and 20, are charged with breaking and entering and grand larceny and face arraignment in Municipal Court today.

Fire Prevention Week Will Begin Monday

Beginning Monday and lasting through the following Friday, the nation will observe National Fire Prevention Week.

The slogan for this year's campaign is "Stop Fires—Save Lives."

Fire Chief Clarence W. Wright said eleven thousand five-hundred people lose their lives every year in this country through careless fires. The main causes for fires in the home are deficient heating, cooking and electrical facilities. Defective chimneys and carelessness involving inflammable liquids and materials also are the causes for many fires. Fifty-three percent of all fires in the home originate either in the kitchen or the living room, Wright said.

With the advent of autumn, residents are asked to be especially careful in burning leaves and to do so at least fifty feet from a building.

Wright says people also should be careful in throwing away cigarette butts, installing hot water tanks, and maintaining proper ventilation devices. One important thing for people to remember when they move into a new house is to have their electricity checked for overloads before they add electrical appliances.

The fire chief urges people to practice fire prevention every day of the year — not only during National Fire Prevention Week.

Ohio, French Cities Get New Statues

VAN WERT, Ohio (AP) — Van Wert has a new statue, thanks to a French sculptor.

So does Vimoutiers, France, thanks to Van Wert.

Statues of an 18th century French peasant girl who gained Napoleon's favor with her tasty cheese were unveiled simultaneously Thursday in Van Wert and Vimoutiers.

The original statue of Marie Jarel was erected by the farmers of Normandy in 1928 to honor the young girl who had first served camembert cheese to Napoleon. The emperor enjoyed the delicacy and named it after the commune (small administrative district) where Vimoutiers is located.

During World War II, American bombers destroyed the tiny French village—and the statue—by mistake. The Allies had received false information that there were large stocks of ammunition there.

A wealthy Ohioan, Welles Bosworth of Marietta, who was living in Paris, heard of Vimoutiers' plight and started a movement to aid its reconstruction. While the village was being rebuilt, employees at the Van Wert plant of the Borden Cheese Co. donated $2,000 to restore the statue.

On the statue's completion, a plaster model was sent to the plant here.

Mrs. Frank J. Lausche, wife of Ohio's governor, unveiled the plaster model. Jean Paul Desparment, French consul in Detroit, represented his government.

EXECUTION DELAYED
CINCINNATI (AP) — Robert Jackson, convicted of first degree murder in the holdup shooting of a Cincinnati detective, gained an automatic stay of execution Thursday. The First District Court of Appeals set Oct. 30 for hearing his appeal. He was scheduled to die Oct. 27.

Jerry Galvin, approaching his 100th birthday in Estherville, Iowa in August, boasted that "I'm growing a whole new head of hair."

Memorial Building To Offer New Activities For Young, Old

Beginning Wednesday the Memorial Building will launch one of the many new educational and social programs scheduled for the fall season.

Lee Burton, building director, said instruction in craft work will start in morning and evening sessions Wednesday.

The first of these classes, to run every Wednesday during October, will be copper tooling. Those interested are requested to register as soon as possible, although it is not necessary to register to enter the classes.

The morning sessions will last from 9 to 11, and the evening courses will run from 6 to 8. Students may come at either time. Plans call for those interested to be divided into two groups, depending on their experience.

In November, classes will be given at the same time each Wednesday in metal enameling; and during December, instruction will be offered in hammered aluminum.

Registration is free and applicants are under no obligation. Future plans call for classes in canning and basketry beginning in January.

Burton said he also hopes to form an international dancing group to afford those interested instruction in the different types of dances carried on in foreign countries.

Persons interested are asked to register first in the Memorial Building, although it isn't required. However, through registration, the teachers will be able to ascertain who is interested in what type of dance. Instructors will be representatives of international groups living in Salem.

The free dancing classes will be held on Fridays twice a month. No starting date has been set, but Burton hopes enough people will register so that instruction can begin November 1.

Individuals and groups will be welcomed to the dancing classes. First sessions will be given to recorded music. Depending on the response an orchestra may be provided.
